

Jeremy Schmidt attended Seattle Film Institute and has been working in the Visual Communications department at Edmonds College for 15 years. During that time he has been a freelance videographer and graphic designer. Drawn to moving pictures and graphics from a young age, he discovered it was the story behind the images that had captured his attention. His work has taken him to places like South Africa, Cuba, and Uruguay to name a few. He's worked with Northwest companies like Children's Hospital, Premera, and Arena Sports.

Jeremy enjoys drawing inspiration from nature, long walks on the beach and cliches.