Global competence is more than knowing the capital of a country, or their most common export. Global competence is something that cannot be taught in books, it is something you must experience. This is why employers and universities so highly regard students with international experience. This program in Saijo is a perfect opportunity to expand your global understanding.

In this program you will experience for yourself what a Japanese family and home is like, taken in as a daughter. You will make friendships and see what a college campus is like at the Saitama Women's College. You will also have time to tour around the country to see what the rest of life in Japan encompasses.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

This program allows two female students to become immersed in Japanese culture. Students will live in a Japanese home, go to cultural classes on a Japanese campus, learn about Japanese culture and hospitality and tour Japan!

HOUSING:

You will live in home-stay in Saijo. A family consisting of a couple, a single woman, or parents with children will bring you into their family for these two weeks. You will eat meals with them and they will assist you in directions and recommendations around the country. This is a very special opportunity to make lifelong friends or family.
