2017-18 College Highlights

During the past year, some of our best moments were spent:

Kicking off the academic year with a new mission: Teaching | Learning | Community. Guided by innovation, equity, inclusion, and a global perspective, Edmonds CC is committed to its new core themes of academic excellence, student success, and community engagement.

Celebrating the hire of Edmonds CC's new president, Dr. Amit Singh. Dr. Singh has more than 20 years of experience in higher education and comes to the college from Clark State Community College in Ohio, where he's served as provost and senior vice president of academic affairs. He'll join the Triton community on June 25.

Congratulating three Edmonds CC students – Naol Debele, Jessica Howard, and Tina Rajabi – who were selected as semifinalists for the prestigious, national Jack Kent Cooke scholarship.

Awarding $50,000 in full-ride scholarships to five local high school students. Each student received a $10,000 Edmonds CC Foundation 50th Anniversary Scholarship to cover the cost of tuition, books, and fees for two years.

Lauding culinary arts student Irma Jimenez for winning first place in a Microsoft and James Beard Foundation culinary competition for student chefs.

Launching an updated and vibrant website redesign to provide users with a more modern, fresh user interface featuring three main pages – college homepage, student portal, and employee portal.

Reaffirming the college's standing as a Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities (NWCCU) accredited college and receiving accolades for emphasis on equity and inclusion and commitment to student achievement, experience, and success.

Promoting a healthy educational and work environment for students, employees, and visitors by prohibiting smoking and the use of tobacco products on campus with a Tobacco and Smoke-Free Campus policy.

Expanding the college's free, student parking by adding 50 additional parking spots.

Celebrating the Washington State Legislature's approval of $37.8 million for the construction of a new Science, Engineering, and Technology (SET) building. The 70,000-square-foot building will allow the college to continue offering students high-quality STEM programming that meets industry demands.

Earning the designation of National Center of Academic Excellence in Cyber Defense Education certification from the National Security Agency (NSA) and the Department of Homeland Security (DHS).

Opening a $1.1 million Student Center for Cultural Diversity and Inclusion to serve as a safe zone for all students, with a focus on ethnically diverse, homeless, female, gay, lesbian, and gender-diverse students.

Launching a scholarship endowment campaign to raise $25,000 for the Hernandez-Foy Second Chance scholarship, which provides funding to students with histories of incarceration or homelessness. Edmonds CC President Emeritus Dr. Jean Hernandez and her spouse, Erin Foy, established the scholarship in 2012.

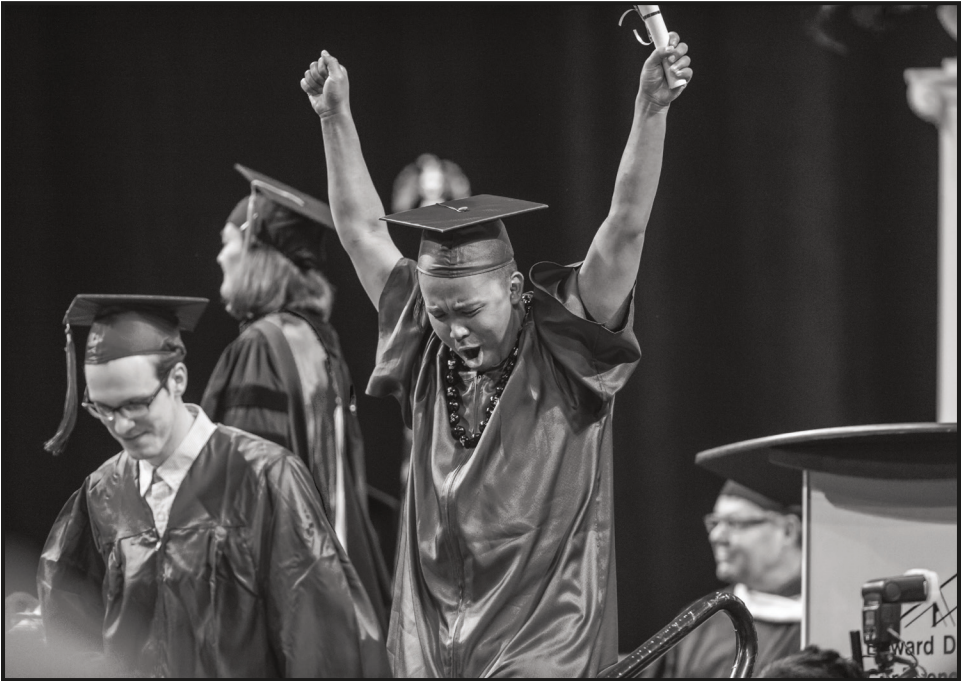

Celebrating the college's designation as an Achieving the Dream Leader College for its demonstrated commitment to student success and completion.

Congratulating Naol Debele and Jessica Howard for being chosen to represent Edmonds CC on the All-Washington Academic Team.

Honoring U.S. Army veterans at the college's fifth annual Veterans Day Ceremony. Dr. Bill Keppler, Civilian Aide to the Secretary of the Army (CASA) Emeritus, was the keynote speaker.

Celebrating the renewal of a competitive, $60,740 U.S. Department of Education child care grant that helps low-income students with children pay for on-campus child care costs.

Congratulations to our 2018 Graduates!

Our Student Speakers

Martin Douge

GED®, current Edmonds CC Materials Science student

Returning to school after nearly 30 years in the workforce can be daunting. For Martin Douge, it came at a time when he needed to make a change in his life. After spending years working long days and nights in restaurant kitchens, Douge decided he needed to find a career path that would be more sustainable.

Douge had already begun making significant changes in his life. He left a life of addiction to drugs and alcohol behind, and is celebrating more than six years sober.

“I knew everything had to change,” Douge said. “The foundation that I was on was bad, so I had to change it, and I knew part of that new foundation was going back to school.”

Edmonds Community College provided Douge with opportunities and the community he needed to make that change and flourish academically and personally. During his first quarter, Douge battled health issues, and he credits his instructors with giving him the motivation and compassion to continue.

“Their ability to be more than teachers can’t be quantified,” Douge said. “They cared about me as a whole person.”

As a self-proclaimed introvert, Douge said the time and attention his Edmonds CC instructors gave to ensure his success both as a student and “as a whole person first” was invaluable. The support he received gave him the courage to continue furthering his education by enrolling in college-level classes.

At 52, Douge will be graduating with his GED. He is currently enrolled in classes at Edmonds CC and pursuing an Associate in Applied Science degree in Materials Science Technology.

Douge’s advice to the graduating class “In life, don’t climb someone else’s ladder; build your own.”

Tina Rajabi
Associate in Science

To say Tina Rajabi is passionate about math is an understatement. She is both talented in and enthusiastic about mathematics, and started the first on-campus Math Club in more than 20 years to share a “secret” about math with her peers – it can be fun.

“Math can be challenging sometimes,” Rajabi said, “and often the challenge gets in the way of seeing just how cool it is.”

“That’s why it’s important to have a math club on campus -- to show the beauty of math to our community and to inspire others to see math ‘outside of a textbook.’”

To those who say they “can’t do math,” Rajabi says if she can, you can. As a woman and an immigrant to the U.S., Rajabi said language presented a barrier to her education for a time. In 2015, she came to the U.S. from Iran with her family.

Rajabi began her journey at Edmonds CC as an English as a Second Language (ESL) student, and eventually tutored other ESL students. Rajabi is a teacher by nature, and she also works as a teaching assistant in the Math department.

Rajabi’s accomplishments during her time at Edmonds CC include: Semi-finalist for the prestigious, national Jack Kent Cooke transfer scholarship; Edmonds CC Mathematics, Engineering, Science Achievement (MESA) program member; and Relationships in Science Education (RISE) program member.

She was also one of 10 students chosen from among 325 applicants to attend Seattle University’s Mathematics Early Research (SUMmER) program in 2017. She presented her research at Stanford University in April.

At 20, Rajabi will be graduating with her Associate in Science degree with a focus in mathematics. She is anticipating acceptance into University of Washington’s mathematics program at the Seattle campus.

Rajabi’s advice to the graduating class, “It’s great to look up to others to grow, but don’t compare yourself to others. Keep working hard and put yourself, and only yourself, in the spotlight of comparison. Be a better ‘you’ today than you were yesterday.”

Special Recognition

Students who wear a gold honor cord have demonstrated outstanding academic achievement by maintaining at least a 3.8 cumulative grade point average in 100-level classes or higher (up until spring quarter) while earning a or certificate at Edmonds Community College.

Members of Phi Theta Kappa, recognized as the official honor society for community colleges by the American Association of Community Colleges, may wear a gold tassel or a gold stole, indicating they have at least a 3.5 grade point average.

Additional Commencement Ornamentation

College departments, programs, or clubs may develop and request approval for a standard recognition symbol or ornament (e.g., pin, tassel, stole) that graduates may wear on their cap or gown during the commencement ceremony.

Graduates who are members of the college's veterans club, the Edmonds Community College Student Veterans Association, will be wearing red, white, and blue cords.

Academic Dress

The academic dress worn by the faculty originates from the Middle Ages, when faculty and students wore caps and gowns to stay warm in cold buildings. The distinctive dress, worn daily in American universities until after the Civil War, served to set the scholars apart from fellow citizens and led to the phrase "town and gown." Such regalia is still worn today by faculty and students in some European universities.

The type of gown and hood distinguishes the wearer by level, academic major, and college or university. The master's gown is made with long, closed sleeves. The doctoral gown has longer sleeves than the master's gown, is faced with black velvet from the hem to the neck and back, and contains velvet chevrons on the sleeves.

The doctoral hood is longer than the master's hood. The colors on the inside of a hood relate to the college or university. For example, the University of Washington's colors are purple and gold and Washington State University's colors are crimson and silver. The color of the velvet on the hood depicts the academic specialization as follows:

- Brown – Architecture and Fine Arts
- Citron Yellow – Social Work
- Dark Blue – Philosophy
- Green – Medicine
- Lemon Yellow – Library Service
- Light Blue – Education
- Light Brown – Business
- Lilac – Dentistry
- Orange – Pharmacy
- Peacock Blue – International Affairs
- Pink – Music
- Purple – Law
- Scarlet – Theology
- White – Arts and Letters
- Yellow – Science

Continued from inside front cover.

Celebrating the opening of a campus Food Pantry for Edmonds CC students and employees experiencing food insecurity. Kudos to the Edmonds CC Green Fund, Foundation, and Associated Students of Edmonds Community College.

Hosting U.S. Congressman Rick Larsen during campus visits. Larsen met with a team of materials science educators who are leading the way in composites recycling curriculum at the National Resource Center for Materials Technology Education (MatEdU), which is housed at Edmonds CC and funded by the National Science Foundation. On a separate occasion, he visited the Head Start and Early Head Start programs.

Cheering for Edmonds CC Triton Athletics. Volleyball, men's basketball, baseball, and softball teams all made the postseason. It was volleyball's second playoff appearance in a row, men's basketball's fifth in the last six years, softball's third consecutive trip, and baseball's sixth consecutive appearance. Softball and baseball won North Region titles and both placed third overall in the Northwest Athletic Conference (NWAC). Softball's 42 wins set a new school record. Go Tritons!

Celebrating Emily Yim, Edmonds CC Board of Trustees member, for her appointment as chair of the Association of Community College Trustees, representing more than 6,500 elected and appointed trustees who govern more than 1,200 community and technical colleges in the U.S. and beyond.

Lauding biology instructor Jenny McFarland as the first community college faculty member to be recognized as a Claude Bernard Distinguished Lecturer by the American Physiological Society.

Reaffirming our commitment to equity and inclusion and DACA students by joining the presidents of Washington's college and universities, community and technical colleges, Independent Colleges of Washington, and members of the Washington Student Achievement Council in signing a joint statement protesting the current administration's decision to terminate the federal Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals Program, also known as DACA.

Hosting U.S. Sen. Patty Murray during a campus visit. In February, Murray met with students to hear their concerns about paying for college. She also met with Edmonds CC student veterans at the college's Veterans Resource Center.

Congratulating Naol Debele for serving as the fifth student representative on the Edmonds CC Board of Trustees.

Hosting our 32nd annual Edmonds CC Foundation Gala and Auction: Completing the Dream, Making Futures Bright for Students held at the Seattle Grand Hyatt Hotel. Thank you to all those who supported student success with a contribution to the Foundation. The event raised $340,000 for student scholarships, emergency funding, and program support.

Celebrating the life and teachings of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. with an inspirational message from keynote speaker and NBA Hall of Famer Spencer Haywood. Haywood went from picking cotton in rural Mississippi to being inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

Hosting our 33rd annual powwow, "Weaving the World We Want," to bring together students, families, and communities to celebrate American Indian singing, drumming, dancing, and arts and crafts.

Awarding a Community Read scholarship for the 11th straight year. Scholarship applicants read Ta-Nehisi Coates' novel "Between the World and Me" and submitted projects inspired by the book. This year's recipient was Ro Boyce, who submitted a poetic essay and self portrait titled "Don't Be Afraid."

Turning the Tassel

Turning the tassel is the last step in a graduation ceremony. Graduates turn the tassel, fastened to the center of the mortarboard, from right to left to signify their new status.
